

Each line clues an opening line to a song, with some other movie/book/thing tagged on to the end.

Like the legend of the Phoenix Wright

Load up on guns and bring your Friends

People try to put us down just because we get Around the world in 80 days

Give me a second, I need to get my story Straight Outta Compton

Is this the real Life of Pi?

I don't mind you coming here and wasting all my Time

Rising up, back on the Street Fighter

Ground Control to Major Tom Sawyer

Sweet dreams are made of This is Spinal Tap

There's a fire, burning in my Heart of Darkness

So filling in the song name, and the external thing being referenced, in the underlined spaces, you get "Where Tommy used to work," a reference to another well-known opening line, giving the answer "DOCKS".